

Message from the Ambassador

I extend a warm welcome to the new official website of the Embassy of Bangladesh in Rome, Italy.

The rapid growth of information technology and the wide expansion of the internet open new horizons of possibilities and potentials. The web today is a powerful and essential tool to reach to the wider audience. We must avail the opportunities of the technological advances and use them to our full advantage.

The present web-page has been designed with a view to providing a wide-range of information on the Embassy's services and activities. It also provides linkage to other relevant websites on Bangladesh. It has been developed in such a fashion so as to be a gateway to Bangladesh in the virtual world.

I am confident that the website will be an important instrument in our efforts to further deepen our cooperation with Italy particularly in the fields of trade and investment. The site, I am sure, will be useful to those seeking consular related information as well as information in general about Bangladesh. As the Embassy is concurrently accredited to Greece, Albania and Serbia, the site would also contribute to promoting our relations with these countries in Europe.

We would welcome comments or suggestions from the visitors so that the web-page can be further improved.
